

DISTRESSING RHEUMATISM

How many people, crippled and lame, from rheumatism, ever their condition to neglected or incorrect treatment! It is the exact combination of the Purest Cod Liver Oil with glycerine and hypophosphites as contained in that has made Scott's famous for relieving rheumatism when other treatments have utterly failed.

If you are a rheumatism sufferer, or feel its first symptoms, start on Scott's Emulsion at once.

Why Farming is Essential

Despite Its Poor Prospects The Industrial Nation Must Live

W. C. Gold, B.A., of York, Ontario, addressed the Empire Club of Toronto as a practical farmer and also spoke on the importance of agriculture in underlining agriculture in Canada. He pointed out that agriculture is not merely an occupation but individuals follow it for profit, while it is a great national interest, determining the welfare of the nation, the status of this nation and the opportunities and prospects of our country, hence the status of Canada, its outlook and future.

He made a comparison between agriculture and the capital investments to prove that if five per cent were allowed on the capital investment, the rate of return would be a deficit in the year's operations of $100,000,000, the manufacturer had a surplus of $200,000,000 on their investments, in addition to the five per cent on capital investment.

Five per cent is one of the chief reasons why agriculture is the most important industry, which contributes to man's welfare besides being the one which supplies him with the necessities of life; city life is in a few years becoming extinct without the constant stream from the country.

The seed bed of the whole population consists of small independent farmers, numbering and numbering; these occupations have a monopoly of the market, and the farmer who affords the very best, can afford for an abundant supply of good food. In these three things are pure imports.

Settling the Land

Ambitious Plans of the Greater Winnipeg Water District

The Canadian Water Power district is planning a settlement about eighty miles from Winnipeg. The plan is to settle the land and to undertake a certain deviation from the section lines for the roads to make the physical improvements, roads, drainage, etc. The colonization of the men and will render aid in various ways in starting them in the agricultural department will give them advice as to the best use of the land, the various methods of agricultural processes and methods.

The agricultural college will furnish the settlers with all the information available to give expert advice. The provincial department of education is very helpful in organizing the school and making the children more keenly feel as in more humid areas thousands of horses are wintered through the winter in surprisingly good condition. Rarely is the fall of snow greater than two inches, from finding sufficient feed for themselves out of doors.

The water district has been seldom so golden as at the present time. Geltings of fair size are quite common, and the price is higher per acre.

It is estimated that Manitoba has 250,000 head of horses, of which approximately, 1,200 are stallions, engaged in the department of agriculture. A conservative estimate places the total value of the horses of the province at $40,000,000.

The cheapness of Mother Graves' tea is another factor in the growth of the tea market.

Worth Protecting

A good article is worthy of a good package. A rich, strong, delicious tea like Red Rose is worth putting into a sealed package to keep it fresh and good.

A cheap, common tea is hardly worth taking care of and is usually sold in bulk.

Hid Under a Woman's Wig

A Conscientious Objector in England Was Wearing Feminine Dress

A detective's smart discovery of a conscientious objector dressed and told to the magistrate recently. He went to a house where two persons, wife and husband, were staying. Suspecting one, a sudden pull at the hair revealed a wig.

Major General Sir Gordon Dunn 40 years old, admitted he was a conscientious objector, and that he had come to Bristol from Merthyr just before the war was adjoined.

Fight Against Autocracy

The Power of the Kaiser Must Be Broken

It is a curious circumstance that the leaders of all the anti-Nazi forces in Russia are German. The German forces, not so in Germany, for there is no German army. The German forces are fighting against its grinding brutalism and naval aggression. One captain was captured and held in prison, but the other officers remain to far more closed. Is it any wonder, then, that when, as illustrative of German treachery, the kaiser, without any legal process, could be tried in a court martial, could of his own will decree that one out of seven million Germans should be condemned to years of imprisonment such as the autocracy the world over? The German government, in its own illustrations, its doom is that it has been overthrown by the attempt to overthrow it as it has been overthrown by the mutiny. New York Herald.

THE WAR IN THE KITCHEN

Decision of the War is Question of Food Supplies

In every attempt to save food materials and such an attempt should be made, whether the preparation of every meal, whether in the kitchen or restaurant, or the chef in the hotel or restaurant, should be the first thing in mind: "Our problem is to feed allies this winter by sending them as much concentrated nutritive value as possible in the least amount of space. These foods should be easily digestible and富有营养的. Our solution is to eat less of these and more of other foods that are more nutritious and less likely to waste less of all foods." The language is that of the United States.

The other side of this line of thought is that more is not always better, and that more is not for all. There is a limit to the amount of food that can be consumed by the body.

Not only should there be no waste, but careful thought should be used in the preparation of food to insure the end that the selection of foods shall conform to the needs of the unit.

Important engagements of this war are to be fought in the Canadian kitchen.—Branson Sun.

A number of the young men who have come under the Military Act, left on Sunday for Medicine Hat for Medical Examination. Only a few of them however returned after a short time due to physical fitness, the others were graded away from B to E.

Electoral times are stirring times for newspapermen and others who have received full measure of the stir during the last few days. Especially pleased are we to receive subscriptions from the nominees, their agents and assistants. Too bad we have not a dozen or more children for them to encase over.

All outstanding Red Cross work should be turned in to Mrs. Morden before the end of November. Any person wishing Red Cross work may obtain same at Mrs. Morden's. More workers are required (especially knitters) if the Bassano branch is to uphold its previous record.

Actual Cash subscriptions to the Victory Loan from Bassano and District up to the 20th inst. amounted to $52,800. In spite of the excellent reports given last week a few of the larger subscribers are apparently not coming with their promises, but they will be the loss and not the Dominions' for reports from all over the country show that the loan commands itself to the business capacity of business men to say nothing of the patriotism of the majority.

Up to noon of Wednesday 21st last the decisions of the local tribunal for Bassano were as follows:

Non-Partisans Open Campaign

The first shot of the election campaign was fired on Tuesday when D. H. Gaetz, the non-partisan League representative went over the top after the report of the electors.

We were unfortunately unable to be present at the commencement of Gaetz's speech but we were in time to hear him denounce the party systems in great style.

Theo. Schmitzler the present Union Government as a ministerial adopted in order that the present methods of government might still be maintained. He appealed to the farmers as a class to support the non-partisans, as he said the only other alternative that the league would support was the existing government.

Mr. North of Parkland also addressed the meeting and put the trifles to the candidates' speech.

He began by relating his own family history and family of Mr. Gaetz's particularly, all of which were most interesting. Mr. North also recited a few stanzas of Lowell and told a few jokes—slamming the party system and patronage schemes right off the map, while when he got through he was asked to suggest to improve conditions except by vague references to the admittedly difficult task of cleaning up the political messes into which the country has fallen.

The chairman invited guests connected with either of the parties to speak from the platform on anything arising out of the remarks of the speaker, but apparently no one felt the necessity and the meeting dispersed with the singing of the National Anthem.

Four Candidates For Bow River

Nomination day at Bassano was not marked by any particular interest except the object taken by the legal representative of the Liberal candidate to the nomination papers of one of the other candidates.

The Returning Officer did not uphold the objection, and we are aware of any further action having been taken.

The four candidates for this riding are H. H. Halladay, Farmer of Bassano; J. E. Gouge, mine operator and farmer, of Drumheller; Liberal; D. H. Gaetz, Farmer, of Vulcan; Non-Partisan.

Jane Reid, Susan Ritter, of Calgary, Socialist.

It is hardly yet to forecast the result of the complicated competition but it is evident already that the Union Candidates are brighter than any of the others for while he stands for the one cause which dominates this war to a greater degree than any other, the forms of the other candidates are merged on minor issues, chief among them being, of course, criticism of Uncle Sam.

The liberal candidates chief appeal is upon the planks of reform and the tax which the voter who votes relies upon a direct appeal to the farmer's vote. The Socialist's manifesto contains little except anti-war for he is anti to everything in the constitution.

Warfare Against U-Boats

Official Stories Show That German Do Not Always Have Their Own Way

The following incidents, taken from the admiralty records, show that the German U-boats are by no means invincible.

"First story.—From one of our submarine forces a torpedo was seen approaching the starboard beam. It jumped out of the water when 100 yards off, and struck the water again near the watertight, making a large rent and flooding several compartments. The crew were able to get it blown out into the air, pieces of it still lying on the wireless aerial. Soon after a second torpedo was seen to pass forward of the port beam. It turned and made for our ship, but quickly dived and was lost to sight, and submerged. Again it appeared, to be followed this time by a coming torpedo. This time it exploded and hit the base of the conning tower and removed the two periscopes. In the meantime the submarine quickly assumed a list to port, and several men came out of the water to assist the crew.

He waded along for a space; his gunner had been wounded and oil seeped from his side, so he came on deck and waved their hands. As his sign number, "Cease fire," was ordered, the submarine started to make off at fair speed, the crew shouting to pass over in the mucky weather. When we saw him, a loud explosion took place forward, and he sank. He lay on his side, the crew gone, who had been swimming his sharp how and slowly sank to the bottom of the water. Two survivors were picked up, and the ship made harbor.

"Second story.—One of our submarine craft eight enemy submarine at a distance of 10,000 yards. She maintained her course, and five minutes later the submarine proceeded towards her. Suddenly he submerged, and shortly after her periscope disappeared, and she was lost for a few seconds and then disappeared.

The boat was ported, and when over the periscope he saw the periscope had been seen an explosive charge exploded. Gun fire circled round and when it had stopped more dropped another charge. The crew were all dead, and after two or three seconds by apoplectic stroke, when he saw them again.

Could any spirit be nobler? And the same quiet courage is being shown by countless women. One hundred wounded soldiers was being carried safely to a station, and among those who were carrying the wounded meeting with loved ones was a young woman carrying her baby. When the man who was carrying her baby was shot, she held him close, and even though she was shot herself, she strengthened her self, and, holding her baby aloft, said:

"Can't any spirit be nobler?"

The same quiet courage is being shown by countless women everywhere—Toronto Globe.

The Courage of Women Will Help Win the War

It is doubtful whether there is any greater heroism seen today than that of the heroic and noble sacrifices of women in our ranks. The time has come for the leave-taking of the women of all classes and stations, women of all classes bear up bravely under the terrible trials they undergo, the last moment, and then returning home to take up the burden of life once more, and then returning to their tears. To see this end to realize what it means is to be proud of our country.

Here is one instance out of many. Jerry, a hero in the novella, was a British marine, largely worked by women, who had been selected for unusual work for womanhood, he observed one small aged woman, who had lost her legs, and whose fingers were fitting finished cartridges into clips with wonderful skill, and responded to her remarks, she looked up with a bright smile, and said:

"Yes, sir, I'm all alone, the rest of machinery."

I had two boys on shore, I've got a photo of their graves—very neat they look, though I only crippled Tam left, and I've got a photo of my wife, and I lost her last one west! With a tear in his eye he said: "Mother, I had my legs cut off, and now I have them again."

The same spirit is being shown in France by countless women. One hundred wounded soldiers was being carried safely to a station, and among those who were carrying the wounded meeting with loved ones was a young woman carrying her baby.

When the man who was carrying her baby was shot, she held him close, and even though she was shot herself, she strengthened her self, and, holding her baby aloft, said:

"Can't any spirit be nobler?"

The same quiet courage is being shown by countless women everywhere—Toronto Globe.

Value of Corn Meal

One Dollar's Worth of Corn Meal Equal in Nutritive Value to Two Dollars' Worth of Wheat

Corn meal, even at the present unprecedented high prices, according to Dr. J. G. Cole, of the Bureau of Entomology and Plant Diseases, food prepared by various causes, can be fed to cattle, horses, hogs, and poultry, and, particularly, the production of spring shooting, a gradual increase in the value of corn meal will bring it well into place.—G.H.

Canada and U.S. Will Protect Birds Grazers and Sportsmen to Benefit Greatly by New International Measures

The international convention for the protection of migratory birds in Canada and the U.S. which was signed in December last, constitutes the most important and far-reaching bird protection. It affords the best means of ensuring not only a cessation of the hunting of all species of our migratory birds such as the insectivorous birds, the wild-fowl, warblers, etc., but also the protection of those which hitherto have not been concerned by man. Following a conference of experts on the subject, others interested in the subject were present, Mr. Cole prepared a paper on the subject.

"There is not a fish in the ocean more maligned than the shark," said Dr. Cole, "but the shark is a valuable individual shark which stay away from us, and leads us to believe that the shark is in the right against the destroyers of the shark."

He also spoke of the importance of the study of agriculture, and other game.

In fulfillment of its obligations under the Convention, the U.S. has introduced the Migratory Bird's Convention Bill to carry out the provisions of the Convention, and this measure has received passage with both houses of Congress.

As soon as the bill is passed, it will be promulgated during closed seasons.

The case of inactivorous birds, it will be unlawful to kill them or to take their eggs at any time of the year, and the limit of the catch will be 200,000,000, and the price will not exceed three and one-half months, and the dates of the seasons will be determined in accordance with local conditions and after consultation with the proper state authorities.

On a number of birds, such as the crane, swan, curlew, and most of the waterfowl, the seasons will be limited to the month of November, December, January, February, and March.

There will be a limit of 100,000,000 of woodcock, snipe, certain plover and yellowlegs, which are becoming great game birds.

The seasons of ten years will be provided.

There will be a limit of 100,000,000 of shore birds, and each year will also be given.

Where they are injurious to agriculture, the seasons will be determined by the proper state authorities.

Measures will be taken to prevent the shipment of migratory birds or their eggs during the closing seasons.

While the numbers of the migratory birds in Canada and the U.S. have been most seriously depleted by various causes, confidence in the future of the bird population, and, particularly, the production of spring shooting, a gradual increase in the value of corn meal will bring it well into place.—G.H.

Says Shark is Wholesome Food

Fisherman Friend of Colonel Roosevelt Proposes New Sea Food for Humanity

Edmund J. Cole, of Greenville, Va., author of "Game Fish and Game of Colonel Theodore Roosevelt," has entered the ranks of the nation's food conservationists. He says the sea food which hitherto have been concerned by man. Sky-High Live Stock Prices Will Continue

Supply Is Short and Europe's Demands Will Be Tremendous

"Two years ago a horse cost for live stock in Chicago at every price level, when will the ascension stop? Before 1916 there was a period of three years preceding when wheat was not so dear, botanically, though, classed as wheat, and its original name, buckwheat, was given it because of the resemblance of the grain to the buckwheat nut of the beech. The pioneer who cleared a little space in the forest where the buckwheat grew, and which would mature before frost and furnish winter foods, and thus the name buckwheat.

The long supply of the United States is 3,000,000 less than five years ago," recently said Dr. J. G. Cole, of the Bureau of Entomology and Plant Diseases.

"In Canada we have such a shortage of hogs that we are compelled to import them from the U.S. and other countries, and we are likely to continue to do so."

"As for beef cattle he stated:

"The market for cattle is at a standstill all over the world. There is an extraordinary demand. The number of cattle in the U.S. has increased by some 7,000,000, and with many more people to supply the same amount of meat, we are faced with the same diminution going on through the country, and the demand for cattle is still greater."

"There has been a tremendous waste of meat in the U.S. and elsewhere, and also in Canada."

A Neglected Grain

Buckwheat Has Much to Retain

In During War Times

In all the talk about food resources nothing has been said to encourage buckwheat cake. The sight of a field of buckwheat, the unique vision; the production was before 1916 when wheat was not so dear, botanically, though, classed as wheat, and its original name, buckwheat, was given it because of the resemblance of the grain to the buckwheat nut of the beech. Ladies and Gentlemen:

Having been selected as a Non-Partisan Win-the-War Candidate in this Riding for the coming election, I stand for the sending of every effort toward the winning of the war, and will, if elected, give my full support to the Military Service Act, as law for the duration of the war, while continuing to urge the Government in justice to conscript money and materials.

As your representative, I can bring the sound common sense of the Western Farmers to bear upon the grave questions that confront us at this National Crisis unhampered and uninfluenced by any party lead-strings or influences.

I stand in the future of this Dominion and in the great future of Alberta, and I accept and endorse the Platform of the Canadian Council of Agriculture. Farmers support your own Candidate on December 17th, next.

Eliminating Waste

Publicity Campaign in U.S. to Conserve Food

Plans are now being perfected for a widespread campaign in visualized by the country to help the people of the United States to save food, for food conservation, and to show them the best methods of food substitution.

Window displays in the retail stores of the United States are to be used to tell it in the most forceful way possible the aims of the United States campaign.

The helpful co-operation necessary for the success of this plan is being assured by the National Council of the associations of the country and the response already received is such as to indicate that the greatest success ever reached by any such plan of publicity and education.

The first stage of the campaign will be conducted in the form of a contest, with prizes for the best window displays. The chairman of the United Publishers Corporation, as representative of the trade, has agreed to have the leading universities of these publications have been secured through Elbridge T. Gerry, head of the national goods association, who is now working in Washington with the food administration. The plan of the campaign has been submitted to the food administration.

The units of awards will be the character of the displays, their educational value, arrangement of display and the like. Each display must be of such a character as to impress the public with the saving of food and waste in the use of all foods, and of substitutions certain to avoid waste. The contests for the future, commonly used without restriction, but now badly needed, are the following:

"Old Fritz" on the Art of Reigning

"Old Fritz" on the Art of Reigning

Said King Should Not Be Troubled With Religion

Apart from the widely known example of Frederick the Great's duplicity and falsehood, it is of peculiar interest to note that the King of Prussia, addressed by him to his Regiments, addressed him to his soldiers, "Fritz," William II. In that work he said:

"Religion is absolutely necessary in society, but it is not necessary for me to have any religion myself. Should it be necessary to have a religion, we must remember that we are Christians, we are undoubtless all would be overjoyed if I were to become a saint."

"How many years!" he declared with the word huzza; it is a word that has different relations, susceptible of different constructions.

I understand by this word (politicians) that they are not afraid of anything. This principle being established, never be ashamed of making known your thoughts, even to the very party that draws advantages from them. Do not commit that absurdity."

How much more logically and effectively the world precepts of "Old Fritz" than the world's only two well.

Shock Awaits Rich Youths

Hundreds Took 'Liberators' Job at Bethlehem to Dodge Draft

It is in the rich young men who are the sons of Bethlehem Steel that the idea that could claim exemption from the draft, was born.

These foods are wheat, beef, pork, dairy products and sugar. The solid foods available in the United States are commonly used without restriction, but now badly needed, are the following:

"Old Fritz" on the Art of Reigning

Waterways Being Scoured For Fish in Stricken Land

Enemy Leaving No Food in Evacuated Region for Use of the Allies

Our Booklet Explains

why Kootenay Ranges stay good as new, long after other ranges have worn out; how the asbestos joints prevent leakage of air or drafts; how the aluminum blues prevent rust; and why they require less fuel than other ranges. Ask our dealer or write for booklet.

Photographic Record of Officers and N.C.O.'s Will be Kept.

The Officer i-c Canadian War Records has asked us to make known to us that it is desired to compile a complete history in photographs of the Canadians' share in the War in the same way that all other belligerent countries are compiling similar records.

It is particularly desired to obtain photographs of all officers, N. C. O.'s and Men who have served or are now serving in the Overseas Military Forces of Canada and that that an appeal should be made to this end through these columns.

All Officers and Other Ranks serving Overseas may find it difficult to send in their photographs and those relatives are therefore invited to send them, to be sent in their photographs for compilation.

By preference the photographs should be mounted and printed on bromide paper in order to ensure permanence. Easton photographs should be accompanied by a short caption, not exceeding two or three lines, naming the rank of the officer or military career, including date of birth, promotion, decorations and so on as this will greatly assist in obtaining a full and accurate record of all concerned.

In addition it is desired to collect all photographs of the Canadian War Record, together with pictures illustrating History, Sports, Presents sent etc. Any photograph of this nature is regarded as a document of historical importance, and it is hoped that all persons who have such photographs will deign to give the original or copies, which will be ultimately placed in the permanent Public Archives of the Dominion.

All photographs, which will be acknowledged, should be addressed to the Officer i-c Canadian War Records, 14 Clifford St., Bond St., London, W. 1, England.

St. Theresa's Academy, Medicine Hat.

This well known Boarding School, which is conducted by the Sisters of St. Louis will extend its teaching curriculum to embrace all grades up to and including the twelfth.

The new syllabus will go into effect on Monday third December 1917.

The Academy in consequence of the ever increasing patronage which it is receiving has increased its teaching staff by four more highly qualified and properly certificated Sisters.

In addition to the usual High School subjects, special attention will be given to instruction in the French Language by Native French Speakers.

A special class for French will be conducted each Friday afternoon from two o'clock to four.

While the Institution primarily exists for the education of the children entrusted to the charge of the Sisters, day students of any age are welcome to the special course in French and Music.
